SUMMARY

Content Marketing Manager with end-to-end ownership of user-facing communication across product and marketing. I create content that drives action, from awareness campaigns and advertising creatives to UX copy and CRM communications. I build systems that keep content consistent and scalable, including tone of voice guidelines, messaging frameworks, editorial standards, and review and approval workflows for multilingual content. Skilled in campaign positioning, data-driven optimization, and cross-functional collaboration with Design, Product, Customer Research, Support, and Legal teams.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Data-Driven Lab, Serbia – IT company providing technology, product, and marketing support for a global fintech broker with 27+ million users across 150 countries.

Editor-in-Chief April 2024 – March 2026

- Developed and rolled out a company-wide Tone of Voice and messaging framework across marketing and product communications, raising internal stakeholder content satisfaction (CSI) from 7.0 to 8.5/10.
- Led the content stream of a brand relaunch and homepage revamp, translating product value propositions and user behavior insights into clear, SEO-aligned messaging. strengthening trust and perceived brand credibility.
- Owned end-to-end brand positioning, messaging, and content for a global promotional campaign reaching 100M+ users across Facebook, DV360, and Google Ads; achieved CSAT of 8.1/10 and delivered a 6.1× InOut uplift (+$8.8M) vs. prior year.
- Established editorial guidelines and content standards for marketing, support, and localization teams across 9 languages; reduced content approval cycles from 2+ days to 1 business day.
- Developed AI-content editing guidelines and reusable prompts, enabling the team to revise 30+ SEO AI-written articles in 2–4 hours instead of 8; restored search rankings after a Google algorithm update without full rewrites.

Senior Marketing Copywriter August 2021 – April 2024

- Redesigned the onboarding email flow based on user journey research and behavioral decision points; reduced the sequence from 8 to 3 emails and increased email-to-product conversion by 34%.
- Designed post-install push notification sequences based on behavioral triggers and user segments; identified a winning trigger via A/B testing and scaled globally, increasing registration conversion by 39.6%.
- Reduced time-to-publish from 45–60 minutes to 5–10 minutes by building a modular messaging system of time-sensitive market communications, with reusable localized templates, variables, and a custom HTML tool used across teams.
